

Third Day Featured as Part of CNN's "Road Warriors" Series Today

ATLANTA (Feb. 22, 2011) - CNN recently taped a "life on the road" feature with acclaimed Atlanta-based rock band Third Day as part of its "Road Warriors" series that airs on both CNN and CNN's HLN. The segment aired this morning on CNN (6:00 AM EST) and HLN (6:30 AM EST). If you missed the first airing, you can catch it when it reairs today on HLN at 1:30 – 2:00 PM EST. (Check local listings for specific times and channels in your area.)

About Third Day:

Over the past decade, the Atlanta-based, multi-Platinum rock band Third Day (made up of members Mac Powell, Tai Anderson, David Carr and Mark Lee) has racked up 27 No. 1 radio singles and sold more than 7 million albums which reflect an impressive 2 RIAA Platinum and 8 Gold Certifications. A recent Georgia Music Hall of Fame inductee (2009), Third Day has garnered 24 career GMA Dove Awards from 47 nominations, 4 GRAMMY Awards (with 11 career nominations), an American Music Award (with 3 American Music Award nominations) and multiple ASCAP honors for songwriting.

Third Day has been featured by top media outlets including "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno" (NBC), "The Late Late Show with Craig Ferguson" (CBS), "60 Minutes" (CBS), ABC's "Nightline," USA Today, the New York Times, and even graced the cover of Billboard magazine, which called Third Day "one of the best rock bands." As a top-ranked touring band, according to Pollstar magazine, Third Day has played for audiences reaching into the millions. For additional information about Third Day please visit www.ThirdDay.com.

###

Contact: Jacquelyn Luttrell Phone: 615-261-6500

Email: pr@pmgsonymusic.com